DID YOU KNOW?

The decennial census is mandated by the U.S. Constitution.

Under Title 13 of the U.S. Code, federal law requires that all personally-identifying information collected for the Census be kept confidential – it cannot be shared with service providers, law enforcement, the courts, immigration, or anyone for 72 years.

Hard-to-Count populations include young children, racial & ethnic minorities, low-income workers, homeless, undocumented immigrants, mobile individuals such as college students, military and seasonal workers, LGBTQ persons, and those distrustful of the government.

Be counted where you spend the majority of your time living to ensure adequate planning & funding of local services – being counted in NC will not change your permanent address or tax status.

Children under age 5 comprise the most undercounted age category – an estimated 1 million were not counted in 2010.

In NC, children under the age of 5 represent nearly 6% of the population.

Newborn in hospital? They count!

African American children are 2 times more likely to live in poor or low-income homes than white children.

Nearly 2% of NC's population identifies in whole or in part as American Indian.

NC will lose an estimated $27.4M federal dollars annually in the event of a 3% national undercount of Hispanics.

You Count in NC! Census 2020

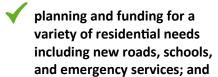

Everyone must be counted once, only once, and in the right place—this includes you!

You should be counted where you live the majority of the year.

You can take the census survey using a computer, mobile device, telephone or paper questionnaire.

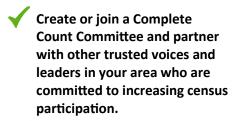

Census data determines:

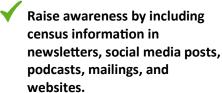

How can you participate?

Exercise your voice. Make NC count for you and your community—April 1, 2020 is Census Day!

Population determines federal funding...

#MakeNCCount

